We're the newcomers to Washington who were brought to the verge of financial ruin by Windermere, the Northwest's largest real estate firm. We're attempting to turn our negative experiences into something positive for our community and the American Homestead. Our website is dedicated to a study of *Public Interest * Public Conscience * Public Duty

"You cannot submit to evil without allowing evil to grow. Each time the good are defeated, or each time they yield, they only cause the forces of evil to grow stronger. Greed feeds on greed, and crime grows with success. Our giving up what is ours merely to escape trouble would only create greater trouble for someone else." -- Louis L'Amour, A Man Called Noon, Bantam, page 173.

Dear Gov. Gregoire:

We write for two purposes:

1. To tell you of a situation.
2. To ask that you take action to correct the situation.

A Washington law enforcement agency refuses to enforce Washington law and is knowingly and repeatedly allowing state-licensed fiduciaries to deceive and swindle unsuspecting members of the public. The behavior is repeated and systematic.

Many thinking people would consider the cooperative efforts between the agency and the licensees is evidence of organized crime.

The law enforcement agency is the Department of Licensing.

The licensees are employed by Windermere Real Estate.

The attached letter, written to Sen. Rodney Tom on April 15, 2009, explains the situation. More information is contained on our web page at the URL above.

Since we wrote the letter to Sen. Tom, we have discovered that DOL, in addition to the cases cited, was informed of the facts and the court decisions of the Vila Pace-Knapp and Emma Endicott cases. The facts were undeniable and the courts gave testament to the violation of community standards. But despite all -- and consistent with the other cases we cite -- DOL "found" the agents had done no wrong. DOL operates as the enabler of Windermere's sociopathic behavior.

Previous negative experience with the Attorney General's office, together with news of the improper contributions made by the Washington Board of Realtors to his campaign, convinces us that your office is the only hope for having this government malfeasance addressed and handled properly.

The people of Washington depend on you.

Sincerely,

Mark & Carol DeCoursey
